Impact of Damage Caused by Record Snowfall on Consolidated Financial Results

On February 15, 2014, record snowfall caused partial damage to factory buildings, including the collapse of some roofing, at Furukawa Electric's Nikko Works (Nikko City, Tochigi Prefecture), which manufactures copper strip-related products. Updates were provided on February 17, 20 and 27 and on April 25 on the status of the recovery efforts. We will continue working towards a complete recovery by the end of 2014. The following information concerns the impact of the above snow damage on the Company's consolidated financial results.

(Unit: 100 million yen)
